

Voice-over-IP (VoIP) Diagram

Diagram shows regular phones from Office 1 are able to intercom regular phones at Office 2 (and visa-versa) using VoIP over the internet or MPLS (T-1 circuit). The intercom calls do not attract any charges. Diagram also shows two VoIP phones (shown at the bottom) connecting through the internet and are able to intercom both offices (at no charge) and gain dial tone for outside calls.

